To Our Family of Members,

As summer winds down, we look forward to a new school year, a new year on the Jewish calendar, and a new session of JCC programs and classes. For me, fall will bring a lot of firsts having just moved here from Washington DC over the summer to take on the role of General Manager of Fitness & Membership.

I have already met so many of you on the fitness floor, at the JCC Water Park, and just around town. Milwaukee won me over this summer with all of the festivals and the friendly people I encountered. For those of you who I have yet to meet in person, I look forward to seeing you here at the J and hearing your story. Here’s a little of my story:

I am a native of Toronto, Canada, and love to stay active playing tennis, volleyball, and hockey. While I may be new here in Milwaukee, I am no stranger to the JCC world having recently served in the same role for the Bender JCC of Greater Washington. In my 20 years working in the field of Fitness and Recreation, I have always been happiest when serving the community in which I live, whether it is through fitness and wellness or through community programs. I look forward to doing the same here and being a part of an organization like the JCC that is partnering to build a healthier Milwaukee.

While I will certainly be experiencing a lot of firsts this fall, I also know many of our members will be doing the same. Schedule that first session with a personal trainer and discover how to work out more efficiently and with renewed purpose. Watch your child blow bubbles underwater for the first time during a swim lesson. Get your kids ready for the first day of school and know they will be picked up and have a great afternoon with Kids Center Before & After School programs. Or just strap on those gym shoes for the first time in a long while and come find a supportive community on the fitness floor. Our team will be there to cheer you on!

I can’t wait to celebrate a new year for all of us here at the JCC!

COMING THIS FALL!
Join us as we partner with local architecture firms to create amazing structures out of cans and bring awareness to food insecurity concerns in Milwaukee. All food donated to the Jewish Community Pantry, our community’s response to hunger, which primarily serves the Amani and Metcalfe Park neighborhoods.
For all the hours, dollars, and sweat equity put into JCC facilities throughout the state of Wisconsin – there’s been one destination in particular need of a renovation: jccmilwaukee.org.

“Even in the ‘businesses’ of community building, wellness, education, and Jewish life – we owe it to our members and partners to deliver an exceptional experience wherever they engage with the J,” said JCC Chief Marketing Officer Chad Tessmer. “Frankly, our website hasn’t been meeting the high standard our program team sets every day.”

With the support of the JCC Board of Directors, and led by the JCC Marketing Committee, a major renovation of the website has been undertaken and the new jccmilwaukee.org is scheduled to launch at the end of the summer.

“We have a talented, diverse, and committed team working on this project,” added Board Officer and Marketing Committee Chair Michele Ellner. “We really can’t say enough about the contributions our committee members have made to this effort.” Among the first tasks for the committee - whose members include David Cohn, Michael Hostad, Laura Peracchio, and Barbara Glazer (past chair) - was identifying the primary goals for the new site and how it serves the JCC community.

“First and foremost, we wanted to create a space that better explained who we are, what we do, and how we uniquely serve Milwaukee,” said Ellner. “We wanted the website to convey the feeling you get when you walk through our doors – even if the website visitor has not yet come to see us. We want the website to help invite prospective members in.”

To accomplish this - and the other priorities identified by the committee, staff, and members – the committee identified a local marketing agency to develop and launch the project, Zizzo Group.

“There were so many factors to consider; technical ability, track record, and the capacity to manage the varied and diverse service areas of the JCC. When all those were equal, we wanted to go with a local firm that knew us, our mission, and our opportunity to be the best JCC for all of Milwaukee,” said Ellner.

“Our partners at Zizzo have been just that – partners,” added Tessmer. “They’ve helped us articulate who we are, connect our different areas, and helped navigate a challenging process. It’s time for us to be better on mobile devices, connect our members more seamlessly with our programs, and ensure that jccmilwaukee.org is a safe, reliable, and active home for the entire JCC community.”

The redevelopment process began in earnest this past January, and has deeply involved all staff areas of the JCC. “We’ve learned a lot about ourselves over this months-long process,” Ellner said. “We’ve talked about where we do great work, where we have room to grow, and where our customers expect us to be. Rebuilding the website has been an opportunity to talk honestly with each other, strategically, and with a shared goal of serving our community as best we can.”

Parenting Tips for a New School Year

By Stacy Synold, Director of Early Childhood Education

As a mom of three children who will soon start a new year, each transitioning to school in their own way, I can identify with the children and parents who are uncertainly entering the beginning of the year – some entering school for the first time.

Parents often wonder if a few tears (by either party) are normal and when leaving a child at school will ever feel OK. Be assured that families experience the transition to school in a variety of ways, and all of us at Gan Ami Early Childhood Education, Kids Center Before & After School Care, and the JCC are here to support your family.

What are some ways to ease the challenges of a new school experience?

1. Check in with your child’s teachers. Our Gan Ami faculty have years of experience easing separation for both parents and their young children. Teachers may have suggestions as to what works well for your child’s particular age group or offer to share the best times to check-in via phone or email. Don’t be afraid to offer suggestions to them about strategies that work with babysitters, grandparents, etc.

2. Focus on sleep, routines, and good nutrition. Older children may need a few weeks to prepare for school by gradually starting bedtime routines earlier and beginning to find school supplies. When a child under the age of 5 begins school, it can be tiring. Our littlest learners in Gan Ami are busy moving their bodies and filling their minds with new experiences. Try a wee bit earlier bedtime, with extra snuggles, and make sure they are having a good breakfast to get the day started right (Hint: this works for parents, too!)

3. Stay positive and show your excitement for your child. Your child will follow your emotional tenor regarding their school experience. Talk about all the wonderful things they can do at school, and assure them that you are so happy they can come to school. Leave your child, feeling confident that your love and the nurturing environment you have chosen for them will provide an amazing start to their school experiences.

Thank you for trusting your child to us at the JCC. We are delighted to share this journey with you, and we open our arms, as a community, to our new and returning families this fall.

Hachnasat Orchim, welcome, come into our house. You are home.
Free Books and Music to Nurture Jewish Families

Reading stories and listening to music with your child are among the most powerful and nurturing early childhood learning experiences. Milwaukee area families raising Jewish children ages 6 months through 8 years old receive free books and CDs for each child on a monthly basis. Over 560 children in Milwaukee are enrolled. The PJ Library is a gift that will nourish a Jewish life from the start. Visit pjlibrary.org to register a child in your life.

Breakin News
Milwaukee area families raising Jewish children will now have more opportunities to participate in Jewish life, thanks to a grant recently awarded by PJ Library, the flagship program of the Harold Grinspoon Foundation. PJ Library in Milwaukee was awarded a grant to create Shabbat Among Friends, a series of home-based Shabbat programs for families raising Jewish children to connect families and create lasting friendships. To learn more about this exciting initiative, contact Rabbi Shari Shamah.

PJ Library is partially funded through a generous grant from the Harold Grinspoon Foundation. If you are interested in helping this vital literacy and family engagement program, please contact Harriet Rothman at hrothman@jccmilwaukee.org, 414-967-8239. Your financial support will ensure the continuation of this program for each eligible child in Milwaukee.

Day Camps ❤ Israel

“Hakshivu, Hakshivunah. Kol ha machaneh,” says the voice on the loudspeaker that broadcasts throughout camp. This is how camp director, Lenny Kass, has been starting his announcements at the Albert & Ann Deshur JCC Rainbow Day Camp for decades. Hebrew for “Attention, attention, all the camp!” this phrase is just one of the many ways that campers are introduced to the culture and language of Israel at JCC Day Camps.

“I have always felt that the best way for campers to experience Israel is to intertwine it throughout camp all summer, rather than to highlight it on just one special day,” explained Lenny. Continuing to expand these offerings has always been a priority, and this summer, day camp has really upped its game.

Two young Israelis joined the JCC Rainbow Day Camp staff at the start of the camp season. Shira Segal and Mor Levi were selected to be summer camp shlichim (emissaries) after finishing their military service. While they spend the afternoon running activities like Israeli Dancing, Israeli Adventure, and Israeli Games, in the mornings they are embedded within a camp group and develop personal relationships with the campers.

Associate Director Shelby Kass sees these relationships as the most important part of their work. “The other day, a group was playing in a sandbox that is shaped like the State of Israel. As they were talking with campers, Shira and Mor each pointed out, in the sand, where they live in Israel. Having these young leaders here to give our sandbox context and bring Israel to life in Fredonia, Wisconsin, is a moment that I won’t soon forget.”

In addition to these interactions with the shlichim, 12 counselors are participating in a pilot for the Foundation for Jewish Camp’s Israel Education for Day Camp Staff Initiative. The program is intentionally designed to include both Jewish non-Jewish staff members, to expand its educational reach and to allow the college-age Jewish participants, critically important practice in discussing Israel with non-Jewish peers. JCC Rainbow Day Camp’s selection – as one of only three national camps - to be a part of this pilot group speaks to how respected they are amongst their day camp peers.

Lenny also spent time in the off-season this year coaching the leadership team of the JCC Day Camps on the Karl Community Campus in Whitefish Bay to create moments of community and Jewish learning. Jess Lanke, director of the specialty day camps, recently participated in the JCC Staff Israel Trip and was committed to bringing Israel to the Whitefish Bay day camps. Her partner in this effort is Director of Youth Programs, Aaron Stern, who spent many years attending, and then working at, Steve & Shari Sadek Camp Interlaken JCC.

Stern’s experience with Jewish camping and Jess’s passion for Israel came together to expand the impact of these camps. While each camp has a unique focus on a specific sport, art, or adventure, all gather on Friday afternoons for Jewish learning, which often incorporates Israel, followed by a Shabbat assembly.

When the Jewish National Fund (JNF) came to camp in June, all of the 3rd-5th grade campers had an opportunity to learn about the innovative ways that Israel solved its water shortage. “We had a relay race to see which team could move a bucket of water fastest across the map of Israel without losing any water. We learned that Israel only has one lake, so they have to move water across the country without losing any because they have less water,” explained camper Emerson Cantwell.

During Milwaukee Bucks basketball camp at the JCC, Friday afternoon brought a Jewish learning rotation that included making Israeli salad with JCC leadership, including President and CEO, Mark Shapiro. This added value to a camp partnership with an organization like the Milwaukee Bucks is just one of the reasons the JCC Day Camps have become a destination for families.

As summer winds down, the ways in which JCC campers made connections with Israel are sure to carry over into the school year and beyond. At the end of August, a new set of Shin-Shinim (18 year old emissaries) will be joining our JCC Family and getting to know the kids participating in Kids Center after school programs. We look forward to meeting these new friends and continuing our close relationship with the people of Israel.

PECK AQUATIC CENTER

Many of the JCC's swimming and recreational activities take place in the Peck Aquatics Center which was provided through a generous grant from the Milton & Lillian Peck Foundation.

The JCC is the Place for Swim Lessons
- Ozone filtered pools that use less chlorine than normal public pools which makes it much easier on your child's eyes, skin and swimsuit
- A large, 6-lane, 25-yard pool allows your child to build endurance and stroke refinement
- Small teaching pool with depths of 2'6” – 3'6” so your younger child can stand in the water without flotation devices, building his/her level of confidence.
- End-of-the-session report cards give parents each child's progress, successes and recommended next level.
- Free swim checks for lesson participants to ensure proper level placement.

To schedule a free swim check, contact the Aquatics office at 414-967-8194.

SWIM TEST POLICY
All swimmers under the age of 14 wishing to swim in either pool independently MUST complete a swim test. Swimmers will be given a wrist band to indicate what areas of the pool they are able to use. A yellow band indicates that the swimmer can be in the small training pool independently. A green band indicates that the swimmer can be in any area of the pool independently, including using the diving board during designated hours.

Swim Tests will be kept in a binder on the pool deck and will be updated weekly.

To obtain a yellow band participants must be able to swim ½ the length of the large pool any stroke. They must demonstrate the ability to keep their body horizontal and have continuous forward motion.

To obtain a green band participants must be able to swim 1 length (25 yards) independently MUST complete a swim test. Swimmers must be able to swim 1 length (25 yards) using either a front crawl or a breaststroke. The must demonstrate the ability to keep their body horizontal and have continuous forward motion.

Immediately after the swim they must demonstrate the ability to keep their body horizontal and have continuous forward motion.

A green band indicates that the swimmer can be in any area of the pool independently, including using the diving board during designated hours.

Private Swim Lessons
JCC Members Only
Ages 3 and up
We believe that private swim lessons are a great way for a child to be successful in learning to swim. In addition, we offer semi-private lessons with 2 – 3 children (please note that we do not match children up for semi-private lessons) All lessons are ½ hour sessions scheduled once a week.

PARENT-CHILD SWIM
Parent-Tot

Last fall, in our continued effort to provide the most meaningful membership experience, the JCC announced a new partnership with the Paley Tennis Center. Conveniently located in Glendale, just 3 miles from the JCC, the Paley Tennis Center has 4 indoor, hard courts featuring exceptional lighting, built-in radar gun, surround sound, and voice recording capability. The facility also includes locker rooms, light concessions, and a raised viewing area.

When the JCC began looking for a tennis option to add value for our members, the Paleys were the natural choice. The brothers who run the tennis center - Jimmy, Bobby, and Andy – have deep connections with the JCC going back to their childhood. Their mother, Dorene Paley, has been serving Milwaukee families as our Jewish Community Pantry coordinator for decades. More recently, the Paley family partnered with Albert & Ann Deshur JCC Rainbow Day Camp to build the camp’s Paley Family Tennis Courts at the 110-acre site in Fredonia.

Running from September through May, the tennis subscription offers JCC members access to court times at the Paley’s beautiful facility for an exceptionally low monthly price. Many of the members who took advantage of the subscription last season found that they were able to easily reserve court time and enjoy the facility.

“I am thrilled the JCC added the tennis benefit to my membership! The Paley Tennis Center is a fantastic facility to play with friends. It is a wonderful option to have - especially with Wisconsin’s unpredictable weather,” said longtime JCC member, Anne Lovitz.

There are definite advantages to adding tennis to your usual workout routine. Katie Nickel, Director of Fitness explains, “Tennis is a lifelong sport, which provides many advantages and benefits for players of all ages. It reduces your risk of heart disease and diabetes, helps you control your weight, strengthens your bones, relieves tension, and can even improve your mood. Playing tennis is a great way to meet people, spend time with your friends, and widen your social circles.”

As September rolls around, the tennis subscription will be available again for JCC members. The monthly cost for a family is only $10 per month and for an individual $5 per month. Members of the JCC’s Health Center premier locker rooms pay half that rate, and Patron members can sign up for the tennis subscription for free. With this subscription, there are no additional court fees, and tennis players can book court time through the JCC.

To learn more about the JCC’s tennis subscription, court reservations at the Paley Tennis Center - or to get signed up right away - please contact us at 414-964-4444 or stop by the Peck Desk at the JCC.

SHARSHERET
Sharsheret Supports Milwaukee is a partnership between Jewish Family Services and the JCC. Sharsheret, Hebrew for “chain,” is a national not-for-profit organization supporting women and their families, of all Jewish backgrounds, facing breast cancer. Their mission is to offer a community of support to women diagnosed with breast cancer or at increased genetic risk, by fostering individualized connections with Networks of peers, health professionals, and related resources. Sharsheret offers a continuum of care for the Jewish community – addressing the needs of those who are concerned about the risk of breast cancer in their family, those who have been diagnosed with the disease and are undergoing treatment, and those who face issues of survivorship or recurrence. At the local level, Sharsheret Supports Milwaukee is your Jewish connection in the Milwaukee community to breast cancer resources and programs that offer information, guidance, education, and family and individual support at every stage of the journey.

To get involved or for more information on Sharsheret, please contact Mona Cohen mcohen@jccmilwaukee.org.
To everything there is a season

Mona Cohen is understandably excited about the upcoming 2018-19 Tapestry season. As the Director of Adult Programs and Community Services at the JCC, she oversees the Tapestry: Arts and Ideas program and is an integral part of planning the cultural and educational events that fill the calendar. She considers herself so lucky to have the help of an incredibly engaged lay committee led by longtime supporters of the arts, Rusti & Dr. Steven Moffic. The committee works closely with the Tapestry staff team to make each season better than the last.

“This year, we have a number of exciting authors, artists, and performers coming to share their talents and experiences with our community,” said Cohen. “Some of the most exciting ones are not yet ready for announcement, but rest assured we will be shouting them from the mountaintops once everything is confirmed.”

While Mona is keeping a few things quiet – for now – she was eager to talk about a March 2019 event which will highlight the Jewish musicians that shaped our culture in the 1960s and 1970s. This special program will be similar in structure to the very popular and well received Give My Regards to Jody and Leonard Bernstein: In Two Worlds performances from the last Tapestry season.

Jody Hirsh, JCC Judaic Education Director, will be presenting the music of artists like Leonard Cohen, Carole King, Bob Dylan, and Simon & Garfunkel. Along with guest vocalists, acoustic, and string instrumentalists, he will be guiding the audience on an exploration of what is special about these Jewish musicians and how their music and lyrics influenced our culture.

“Jody takes these performances and makes them something special. He doesn’t just put musicians on the stage and play the music. He takes you into the musicians’ stories. He finds a different take on a tune you thought you knew. He takes you on a journey,” kvelled Cohen. “Every Jewish community doesn’t have a Jody who looks at the bigger picture of art and culture and Judaism and puts it into context for an audience. We are very fortunate.”

Another artist that Cohen wanted to highlight is Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra Associate Conductor, Yaniv Dinur. Last season, the Israeli musician brought two unique performances to the JCC, and this season he will be doing a fall concert with MSO Principal Trombone Player, Megumi Kanda.

Mona was quick to point out, “What we have here at the JCC, you are not going to see anywhere else in Milwaukee. Yes, you can go to the symphony and see Yaniv Dinur, but the performances - and the combination of performers - he puts together here are crafted just for the JCC, just for Tapestry.”

But Tapestry is not just about live performances. The Jewish Film Festival committee is putting the finishing touches on their offerings for this year’s celebration of Jewish and Israeli film that takes place October 7 – 11 at the Marcus North Shore Theater. And don’t miss Tapestry’s free film classes here at the JCC, showcasing outstanding new Jewish and International films throughout the year. Each film is followed by talkbacks led by local experts and educators. This year’s series include: a look at the history of Israeli film for Israel’s 70th featuring a film from each decade; a group of films that highlight unconventional Jewish stories; and a series of international Holocaust films, among others.

On Tapestry’s visual arts calendar, the JCC gallery space in the Surlow Promenade will be the home to art exhibits by Helen Suzman, Jewish South African anti-apartheid activist, and Hanan Harchol, an Israeli-born New York based animator and filmmaker. The Milwaukee Jewish Artists’ Lab will also be meeting this fall to choose a theme and begin the work that will result in their 8th annual exhibit in the spring.

And book lovers of all ages will have opportunities to hear from authors exploring food, culture, and holidays. Cookbook author, Michael Solomonov, will invite us to taste some Israeli Soul; Rabbi Marvin Tokayer, will discuss his book Pepper, Salt and Ivory: Amazing Stories about Jews and the Far East; and Rabbi Jamie Korngold will share her PJ Library book, Sadie’s Snowy Tu Bishvat, with children and families during the winter holiday that celebrates the birthday of the trees.

“Rabbi Korngold’s Sadie and Ori series have been really popular with our young PJ Library families. These characters have explored many Jewish holidays, but this latest book about living in a winter climate - like we do in Wisconsin - during a holiday that celebrates the budding of the trees in Israel, it really strikes a chord,” said Rabbi Shari Shamah, Jewish Family Specialist and Milwaukee PJ Library Coordinator.

Be sure to weave this year’s Tapestry offerings into your cultural calendar. With author visits, art exhibits, films, theatrical and musical performances, and speakers that have yet to be announced, the upcoming season should be filled with opportunities to explore culture and the arts in ways that are uniquely Jewish, uniquely Milwaukee, and uniquely JCC.

Her courage, integrity, and principled commitment to justice have marked her as one of the outstanding figures of our history.” This special exhibit, created in association with the International Civil Rights Center & Museum, examines the remarkable contributions of this extraordinary hero. THE HOLOCAUST IN PERSPECTIVE

Join Dr. Shay Pilnik, the executive director of the Nathan and Esther Pelz Holocaust Education Resource Center for a profound and multi-faceted exploration of the Holocaust of European Jewry during WWII. In what respect was Nazism a direct continuation of the old-age anti-Jewish hatred of the Middle Ages and early modern era? What are the roots of National Socialism in the history of modern Germany? What are the prospects of humankind’s ability to draw lessons from the Holocaust and ensure that a horrific event of this magnitude could be repeated? These thought-provoking questions and others will all be observed from multiple angles in this fascinating mini-course.

JEWISH EDUCATION

Back to the Sources: The Jewish Hostesses of 18th & 19th Century Europe
Perhaps one of the most powerful cultural institutions of 18th & 19th Century Europe was that of the “Salonières,” upper class Jewish women who hosted widely attended Salons in their homes. These salons were sought after gatherings of musicians, artists, and intellectuals in Berlin, Vienna, Paris, and other European capitals. Women such as the Itzik sisters, Sara Itzik Levy (1761 – 1854) and Fanny Von Arnstein (1758 – 1818) broke barriers of class and prejudice, and were responsible for refining the culture of the mind in Enlightenment Europe. We will read journal entries, correspondence, and other primary materials to understand the vitality and influence of these groundbreaking women.

The Art of the Jewish Short Story: the Stories of Philip Roth
Last May 22, we lost one of our most profound and well-read Jewish authors, Philip Roth. For many of us who devoured his work as soon as it was published, Roth’s death felt like a personal loss. This year, we dedicate our class to the work of Philip Roth. His first published work was the novella “Goodbye Columbus” (later to be turned into a movie) and 5 short stories. We will examine those first works, plus we will conclude with one of his later novels, The Human Stain.

On the Road with the New Chair

When longtime JCC board member and community leader Joe Kasle was officially elected Chair of the Board at the JCC Annual Meeting in June, he was well-prepared to share with those in attendance his priorities for the next two years.

“We’ve spent nearly a year preparing our agency’s Strategic Roadmap,” said Kasle. “Now it’s time to put it into action.”

Earlier this spring, the Board of Directors completed its strategic planning process, which had begun in earnest the last August with a board retreat. There, the board openly discussed the challenges, opportunities, and areas of focus for the JCC. Following the retreat, the board created a dedicated subcommittee to work with staff, volunteers, donors, and members in writing the plan.

“We had three simple goals,” added Kasle, who chaired the subcommittee along Immediate Past Chair Jamie Miller. “We wanted to create a one-page plan that applied to our entire organization, we wanted to commit to a process that deeply engaged our board, and we wanted a plan that would empower the existing partnership between exceptional staff and volunteer leaders.”

Through the development process, in staff breakouts and board dialogues, one idea kept coming to the forefront.

“What we needed was a roadmap,” said Kasle. “The JCC is a diverse, complex, and unique organization. We serve all ages, all backgrounds, all geographies—and we do it through universal Jewish values. We couldn’t, from up high, tell our committees and staff what to do and think it would be successful. What we aspired instead was to draw a picture of where we wanted to go, and have them tell us the route they’d take to get there.”

The JCC Strategic Planning Steering Committee included Brent Arnold, Nancy Kennedy Barnett, Betty Chrustowski,

Give a Gift to Your Community

Being there for the community is something upon which the JCC prides itself, and scholarships have always been available for those who demonstrate a true need. Thanks to your support, we are working together to build a community that is inclusive to all, one that is founded upon the belief that our entire community grows stronger when everyone can participate.

“I cannot thank you enough. I promise when the day comes, we will repay (the scholarship) in every way possible so another family can experience all that we have.” — Gan Ami Early Childhood Education parent

Your donation to the scholarship fund will enable individuals and families in need to experience:

- JCC Membership
- Early Childhood Education
- Overnight Camp
- Day Camp
- After School Programs

Visit jccmilwaukee.org/donate and designate your gift to the Annual Scholarship Appeal
