To Our Family of Members,

Have you had enough of this winter? We know we have! But putting together the spring classes and programs that you will find in this issue of the Journal has helped us to dream of kids playing on the green grass of the athletic field and jumping rope on the sidewalk of the courtyard someday soon.

As the director of our youth programs, spring is a special time for me because I get to see all of the kids who join us for the Big Thaw - Spring Break Vacation Days. From late March to late April, we cover 14 days of overlapping vacations for school districts throughout our area. Our team of youth professionals take the kids to places like the Milwaukee County Zoo, Riveredge Nature Center, Skateland, Uihlein Soccer Park, Pump It Up, and JCC Rainbow Day Camp so they can have the best staycation ever. Find more information on page 18.

When the kids aren’t on spring break, this short spring session has lots of great after school activities in sports and the arts. Spring is also a great time to get in those swim lessons so your kids are ready for camp and the water park this summer. Speaking of camp, be sure to reserve a spot in one of the many day camp programs we offer at either JCC Rainbow Day Camp in Fredonia or right here at the JCC in Whitefish Bay. Some of our camps are already sold out, so time is of the essence!

Even though my job is all about the kids, I know there is a lot going on for the adults in our community this spring as well. Thinking about running a 5K once the snow melts? The Couch to 5K class may be just the kickstart you need. Already a seasoned runner? Maybe a Running Workshop will help you achieve a new PR (personal record) this year. There are also new specialty programs like Ergonomic Cross Training for office workers and Silver & Strong for active adults 55+. And, of course, softball season is here, so our JCC Softball League will be spending Tuesday evenings at Kletzch & Brown Deer Parks.

You will also want to stop by the Surlow Promenade Gallery to enjoy artist and animator Hanan Harchol’s Jewish Food For Thought exhibit which will be presented mostly in graphic novel style. And be sure to stop by on Wednesday, May 1, as Milwaukee sculptor Richard Edelman unveils his latest monumental bronze titled Glyph that will be installed in the Negev region of Israel after leaving the JCC.

Even though you may still be bundled up in a down coat and have yet to store away the snowblower, we assure you spring is here and there is no better place to spend it than right here at the JCC!

Stay warm Milwaukee,

Aaron Stern

* Erev, Hebrew for Eve. As in “evening of”.
When guests arrive at your home you open the door, greet them with a smile, and invite them inside. This simple act makes them feel welcome and sets the stage for their visit. Hachnasat Orchim (hospitality to guests) is an important Jewish value and a vital part of the work we do here at the JCC. As a destination for inclusive community wellness, education, and social services, our main campus in Whitefish Bay welcomes hundreds of people through its doors each day to participate in the life of our community and the programs that are offered.

In 2016, as part of the Habush Fitness Floor renovations, the customer service desk at the Peck (north) entrance was redesigned to face the entrance and allow for an improved customer service experience. This spring, we are excited to announce that a similar project will be taking place to do the same for the Marcus (west) entrance. We are also taking this opportunity to upgrade member access hardware at both entrances and create new and improved entrance environments that balance the importance of welcoming the community while still protecting the value of JCC membership.

“We take seriously our commitment to be an inclusive and welcoming space for our community while also ensuring the safety and well-being of all those we serve,” said JCC President & Chief Executive Officer Mark Shapiro. “This improvement allows us to continue to deliver the exceptional customer service our members and guests have come to expect from the JCC while creating a new modern entrance experience.”

The artist renderings seen here offer a sneak peek of how the customer service desk areas will appear after the construction is complete. At the Peck entrance, the cabinets and countertop across from the desk will be removed to install the new swing glass turnstiles which will open for each member with the easy pass of a fob. Regular users of our fitness, recreation, and aquatics programs will be glad to know that this work will be done in the evenings while the building is closed and should not affect daily operations.

The more extensive work at the Marcus entrance will require a 4-6 week construction project during which a temporary entrance will be set up adjacent to the current entrance doors. Visitors to the west side of the campus will continue to be greeted by our customer service staff at the temporary entrance. When the Marcus entrance project is done, the customer service desk will be turned to face the doors, so visitors can be greeted as they enter and either proceed to the swing glass turnstiles with their member fob or sign-in with the desk staff for guest access.

As a component of the upgrade in member access hardware, all JCC members will be receiving new RFID key fobs to correspond with the new system. These new fobs will be used at all access points within the Whitefish Bay campus as well as at our properties in Mequon at the Hy & Richard Smith JCC Water Park and the Linda & Fred Wein Family Center for Gan Ami Early Childhood Education. Details on how fobs will be distributed to members will be emailed as the construction project nears completion later this spring.

Winter 2019 has been a true Wisconsin winter. Not only did we have multiple snow days, but the whole city shut down when the Polar Vortex swept through. For those of us accustomed to Midwest weather, this has just been “one of those” winters. But for the Israeli emissaries who are living in and serving our community, they were quite an eye opener.

We asked Keren Weisshaus, Community Shlichah with the Milwaukee Jewish Federation, and May Ben-Shabat & Yogev Toby, this year’s “Shin Shinim” (Sh’nat Sherut - a year of volunteer service before joining the Israeli army) to reflect on how Winter 2019 looked through Israeli eyes.

Keren
Before our first winter in Wisconsin I was really worried how warm-blooded Israelis like us can survive these icy conditions. Every story I heard was scarier than the next and it seemed people really enjoyed sharing them with us. So, after we survived last year’s winter I felt we’ve got this, and winter can actually be fun and exciting (as long as you know how to layer properly). We tried many winter sports and activities for the first time in our lives (Snow tubing definitely my favorite) and when winter was approaching again I was actually looking forward to having some fun snowy days.

Well you don’t need me to tell you this winter was a whole different story. Even my very active Israeli kids refused to go play in the snow after a while and we are all really ready for spring to come. I have to remind myself that spring here doesn’t necessarily comes with Pesach and it might take some time until we defrost, but I know that summer in Milwaukee is totally worth the wait. I’m sure that next year we will miss the beautiful soft snow, and my kids will definitely miss having snow days out of school.

May
I have lived in a place where winter has some rain and the degrees are above 60. When we first arrived in Milwaukee everyone asked us if we are ready for winter and honestly, we thought, “how bad can it be?”

Well, let me tell you…. Pretty bad!

It’s really cold and not something I’m used to from home. I never had an actual coat until I came here. I could have walked out of the house with a t-shirt and a jacket and be perfectly fine.

My first snow here was amazing. I remember it was less than an inch of snow, but I got so excited! Everything looked different… pure. And then it’s been 2 days, and it looked like mud.

Yes, the winter is hard to get used to, but I love it for some reason.

Yogev
“Are you ready for winter yet??” is what I was asked many times before arriving in Milwaukee, I really didn’t think much of it. Heard about the snow and the negative degrees but until you really find yourself in it, there is no way to imagine it.

In Israel, winter and fall are a blast! Everything is green, the rivers are flowing and it all looks really alive, but I knew that I am going to experience something else this year in Milwaukee.

We started our year right as fall came and it was nice and chilly, a bit like I remembered it from Israel, and then the weeks passed, and we got our first snow! By that time, I had my jacket, but I completely forgot the cold, all I thought about was how incredible the snow is right as it falls and piles up.

I saw the degrees go down more and more and it did feel cold. At some point, I just asked myself what is the difference between -5 or -10, it all felt cold in the same way.

And then the polar vortex came, schools were closed, roads were blocked, and it felt like something serious hit our area. Like I mentioned before - it was all cold, but throughout the vortex, if I forgot my gloves outside I would instantly regret it, especially thanks to the freezing wind chill.

But overall, we made it out of the cold safe and healthy. All you need is a good jacket, some heat in your house, and the Wisconsinites to tell you that -20 degrees is “nothing”.

Celebrating our Educator of the Year

By Stacy Synold

“Make for yourself a teacher, acquire yourself a friend, and judge each person favorably.”
- Pirkei Avot

Debbie exudes a love for Judaism that radiates to all who know her. She makes every Shabbat and holiday magical whether she’s leading a song, guiding children and families in the practice of traditions, or visiting the dollar store to find the perfect materials for a holiday craft project. For many years at Gan Ami Mequon, Debbie was the songleader for Shabbat Sing and introduced a generation of children to a Dinosaur knocking on their door or inviting them to twist like a challah while they “Listen and Do.” In recent years, she has offered her leadership to create a special afternoon Shabbat sing-a-long for the 3s and 4s of Gan Ami Whitefish Bay.

Anyone who meets Debbie picks up on her unconditional love for her family - her husband, David, of 42 years, her children, Cori and Adam, and her grandchildren Erev, Mattai, Anjali, and Lukah. Through her example, she has modeled good parenting and joyful living for many of the parents that have been a part of her classroom over the years. Her reassuring demeanor not only offers a sense of security to the children in her care but also to the parents that are navigating the ever-changing needs of their children. Debbie has also mentored many teachers who have grown and learned from her powerful and kind example.

To know Debbie Silberman is to know her neshama, her soul, which is beautiful, kind, generous, full of joy and laughter and enough outrageousness to keep anyone on their toes. She is the person everyone would want as a teacher for their children, and quite honestly, for themselves. Our Jewish community is better for her work as an educator to many generations of our young children. Kol Hakavod, Debbie, and thank you. We offer our love and congratulations on this outstanding achievement.

On March 3, the Milwaukee Jewish Federation’s Coalition for Jewish Learning honored Gan Ami educator Debbie Silberman with the Grinspoon CJL Jewish Educator of the Year Award. With family, former and current colleagues, students, and parents in attendance, Debbie was recognized not only for her more than 30 years of service to the children and families of our community, but more importantly, for her unique ability to build a foundation for children’s lives through joy, creativity, and a love of Judaism.

Debbie began her career teaching kindergarten and preschool in Chicago before moving back to Milwaukee to teach at the JCC when it was located on Prospect Avenue downtown. After taking some time off from teaching so that she and her husband, David, could start their own family, Debbie began teaching 4-year olds at what was then called the JCC Early Childhood Program housed in the former Congregation Beth El ner Tamid in Mequon. For more than 20 years, Debbie brought her energy, creativity, and consistency into her Gan Ami-Mequon classroom. Five years ago, Debbie joined the team at Gan Ami Early Childhood Education in Whitefish Bay where she now teaches 3-year-olds.

Debbie’s ability to establish year-long classroom routines has offered budding learners a secure base from which to explore new ideas and concepts. She channels her creativity and sense of humor to make every moment an engaging learning opportunity with her trademarks like Mr. Pointer and her magical surprise box. In Debbie’s classroom, Mr. Plus brings mathematical concepts and numeracy to snack time. New spaces are constantly being created to bring learning alive - exploring concepts like polling and democracy by having a voting booth in the classroom, working with her class to build a temple so that the children could act out the Hanukkah story, and inviting the class to explore a different country through an interactive “travel” experience.

Spring 2019  |  The Harry & Rose Samson Family Jewish Community Center  |  6255 N Santa Monica Blvd Milwaukee, WI 53217  |  414-964-4444
The Albert and Ann Deshur JCC Rainbow Day Camp is a place of smiles, fresh air, and friendship. And some of those friends have been so for many, many years.

One of those friends is Dr. David Margolis, who specializes in treating children with cancer at Children’s Hospital of Wisconsin. A former camper and counselor himself, Dr. Dave has been a strong – if quiet – partner in ensuring camp has been available for all. Because of those efforts, and the good work of the JCC Rainbow Day Camp Team, special recognition is being paid to the culture of inclusivity and quality in Fredonia.

Dr. Dave has been named a recipient of the “Driven to Achieve Award” by the Donald Driver Foundation for his leadership in creating “Rainbow Camp” at JCC Rainbow Day Camp. As part of the recognition, JCC Rainbow Day Camp – led by camp director Lenny Kass and a program of the Harry & Rose Samson Family Jewish Community Center – will receive a $40,000 grant to continue and deepen the impact of its program.

“Dr. Dave has been a fierce advocate not just for the kids in his professional care – but for every child throughout the community we’re blessed to serve,” said JCC President & Chief Executive Officer Mark Shapiro. “We’re so very proud of this recognition, and of the work Dr. Dave and Lenny do in our community, but we’re even more proud of the partnerships that empower our JCC Rainbow Day Camp team to provide these children and families the moments of normalcy and joy they deserve.”

At the conclusion of the regular summer camp season JCC Rainbow Day Camp offers a full week program, in partnership with Children’s Hospital of Wisconsin, where patients and their siblings or friends attend camp free of charge. Knowing that pediatric patients often are excluded from the normal experiences of childhood, a specialized camp program is built for these children and their medical team (a doctor, two nurses and a social worker) to deliver a safe and lasting summer experience. With a sibling or friend at their side, the better to ease into camp, JCC Rainbow Day Camp becomes the place where families forget about illnesses and hospitals for a day.

“We believe in partnering to build a healthier Milwaukee, and Dr. Dave and Lenny prove that commitment out every year with Children’s Hospital and Rainbow Camp,” added Shapiro. “Beyond being an exceptional doctor, a lifelong JCC supporter, and a passionate leader in Milwaukee – Dr. Dave is a mensch, a person of integrity and honor. I can’t think of a more deserving person or program to receive this honor, and we thank Donald Driver and his team for his continued recognition of all the leaders making a difference in this community.”

Rainbow Camp is just one aspect of the program’s overarching efforts to make camp accessible for the entire community. Beyond the traditional day camp experience, the JCC Rainbow Day Camp team has created industry-leading programs to support families with special needs, economic challenges, and additional physical or emotional obstacles. Known as “Road to Rainbow”, it’s an effort rooted in the belief that every child – of every ability, background, or means - deserves an opportunity to build relationships and enjoy new experiences under the summer sky at JCC Rainbow Day Camp.

The JCC is the Place for Swim Lessons

• Ozone filtered pools that use less chlorine than typical public pools make it much easier on your child’s eyes, skin, and swimsuit.
• Small teaching pool with depths of 2’6” - 3’6” so your younger child can stand in the water without flotation devices which builds confidence.
• Large, 6-lane, 25-yard pool allows your child to build endurance and stroke refinement.
• End-of-session report cards give parents each child’s progress, successes, and recommended next level.
• Contact a member of the Aquatics Team and schedule your child’s free swim check to ensure proper level placement.

Swim Test for Independent Swimmers

All swimmers under the age of 14 wishing to swim in either pool independently MUST complete a swim test. Swimmers will be given a wrist band to indicate which areas of the pool they are able to use. Swim Tests will be kept in a binder on the pool deck and will be updated weekly. Swimmers without a wrist band must be accompanied by an adult in the water at all times unless they are participating in a program.

Roots and Wings: Catching up with Gabe Katz

By Jody Hirsh

Gabe Katz, who appeared in the March 17 Tapestry concert "The Times They Are a-Changin'" – has always danced. But he could never have guessed that his love of dance would lead to meeting one of The Beatles so soon into his career.

Even as a small child he remembers at gatherings at his home in Fox Point or in other people's homes “There would always be a moment when we cleared space in the living room, and I'd just … dance!” Gabe also participated in many theater productions in his elementary and middle school years.

Tom Weissgerber, who was the drama teacher at the Milwaukee Jewish Day School (MJDS), recognized Gabe's interest in dance and recommended he start taking ballet classes. He was fascinated by contemporary dance at age 8 but was self-taught. At age 13, he studied hip hop at Danceworks, then continued his training at North Shore Dance Academy where he studied ballet, contemporary, jazz, and hip hop.

Gabe continued dancing through his high school years at Nicolet High School. He performed in their production of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat," singing and dancing. It was then he realized that “theater” was actually less important in his life, and that he preferred to devote himself to dance, although he wasn't really sure that he would actually study dance in college.

In 2014, Gabe took the plunge and was accepted to Marymount Manhattan College, a prestigious liberal arts school on Manhattan’s Upper East Side. Majoring in dance with a concentration in choreography, and a minor in studio art, Gabe completed his BFA last spring. "I didn't like New York at first," he says, “but now I absolutely love my life in New York. I now have real roots here.” The conservatory style training he received has already helped him achieve many of his professional goals.

Upon graduation, he began working as a freelance dancer and choreographer. Gabe has been a busy dance assistant with the Revive Dance Convention, a national touring dance education workshop, which fosters learning and growth among emerging dance artists. With Revive, Gabe has had the opportunity to travel extensively throughout the United States.

But the highlight of Gabe's young career so far, without a doubt, has been his recent role dancing in Paul McCartney's latest music video for the song "Who Cares." Gabe was introduced to choreographer and director Ryan Heffington in New York and casually told Heffington that he'd love to work with him if he returns to New York. A couple of weeks later, the choreographer messaged Gabe about the new McCartney project. It was Gabe's first experience on a commercial set, and with such a high-profile production, and it connected him with an agent. It felt like a turning point in his career.

“I kept finding myself in awe of my surroundings and who I was working with,” Katz says. “These artists of such magnitude and acclaim still had such an admirable work ethic and grace. It was an incredibly surreal experience that I'm very grateful to have been a part of.” To see Gabe in the McCartney video, search for “Who Cares – McCartney” on YouTube.

Of course, Gabe is no stranger to performing at the JCC. Growing up, he was a part of many performances on the JCC Ritz Theater stage as well as at community events such as Yom HaZikaron, but he notes, “this is the first time I've performed in Milwaukee in five years.” Being a part of the latest Tapestry production allowed him to show the Milwaukee Jewish community how much he's grown, and what his training in New York has meant. This is clearly just the beginning for this talented dancer, and it was wonderful to have him return to his Milwaukee home to share his talents with us.

In every society and in every generation, artists have had a central function in society. What is the place of the artist? What is the role of the artist in the Jewish world, and in the larger world. How does society define the artist, and how do artists define themselves. For the past year, we at the Jewish Artists’ Laboratory have been delving into this multi-faceted theme and creating work based on it.

CALLING ALL ARTISTS

Join the Exhibit • Submit your work

This year we are accepting works to exhibit that look at how artists have been defined in history, in Jewish culture, and in our own contemporary world. You don’t have to be a Jewish artist, and the art does not have to contain identifiably Jewish content, but it should relate to Jewish themes.

Requirements:
- Open to all media
- Images – 3-5 images with a minimum of 1-5 distinct works
- Entry Fee: $20.00 (waived for current paid Jewish Artists’ Lab Member)
- Guest jurors/curators of this exhibit: Max Yela, Director of Special Collections, UWM Golda Meir Library; Debra Brehmer, Director, The Portrait Society Gallery; and Shana McCaw, Senior Curator, Charles Allis and Villa Terrace Museums

Deadline: April 30, 2019. Results of selected artists and work will be announced by May 14, 2019.

Back to the Sources: The Jewish Hostesses of 18th & 19th Century Europe
Perhaps one of the most powerful cultural institutions of 18th & 19th Century Europe was that of the “Salonières,” upper class Jewish women who hosted widely attended Salons in their homes. These salons were sought after gatherings of musicians, artists, and intellectuals in Berlin, Vienna, Paris, and other European capitals. Women such as the Itzik sisters, Sara Itzik Levy (1761 – 1854) and Fanny Von Arnstein (1758 – 1818) broke barriers of class and prejudice, and were responsible for refining the culture of the mind in Enlightenment Europe. We will read journal entries, correspondence, and other primary materials to understand the vitality and influence of these groundbreaking women.

The Art of the Jewish Short Story: The Stories of Philip Roth
Last May 22, we lost one of our most profound and well-read Jewish authors, Philip Roth. For many of us who devoured his work as soon as it was published, Roth’s death felt like a personal loss. This year, we dedicate our class to the work of Philip Roth. His first published work was the novella “Goodbye Columbus” (later to be turned into a movie) and 5 short stories. We will examine those first works, plus we will conclude with one of his later novels, The Human Stain. Text: Goodbye Columbus: And Five Short Stories, Vintage International Edition (1993). Feel free to bring any edition of Roth’s work. Read the story, “The Conversion of the Jews” for our first class session.
